Reenie Ochoa Southwest District Administrator 4208 S. Santa Rita 791-5909 Each year the coming of the fall season means the end of a very busy summer of programs and activities for Tucson Parks and Recreation.

As summer camps, children's swim lessons and the summer pool season come to an end, looking back on all the fun things accomplished this summer, perhaps this is also a good time to reflect upon the value of community partnerships.

Partnerships with the community, civic organizations and businesses make it possible for wonderful things to happen – things that make our community a better place to live.

Such partnerships played a direct role in making it possible for many Tucsonans to enjoy the summer.

Here are a few examples.

- Not many citizens are aware that Pool Pack 2005 summer swim lessons, which enabled 10,000 children to learn to swim and learn water safety, were made a reality through the donations of agencies who care deeply about the youth of our community. Sponsors included Southwest Ambulance as presenting sponsor, and the following supporting sponsors Tucson Parks Foundation, Dan Felix Memorial Fund, Tour for Tucson's Children, Patio Pools & Spas and Southern Arizona Aquatic Association.
- A new universally accessible playground, representing the first of its kind in Arizona and one of the few in the nation, will open soon for children with special needs at Jacobs Park. The Milagro Playground didn't just happen it stands as a labor of love and an extension of community service direct from the hearts of the Catalina Rotary Club.

- For 12 years now the Fourth of July has been something special for hundreds of families who participate in the Tour for Tucson's Children. It's a lot more than just families bicycling, running or walking on a holiday to help provide bicycle helmets for kids. It represents community partnership at its finest, and the event's sponsors make it happen. They include Jack Furrier's Western Tire & Auto Care, for whom the event is named, and numerous other sponsors whose support is greatly appreciated.

At Parks and Recreation we're proud of our community partnerships and thought you'd like to know how they might have touched your life this past summer.
